Italian food carries with it stories, traditions and the character of its lands.

Here in the United Kingdom, we make sure this richness reaches those who choose it every day, simply, safely and on time.

Our mission is to turn the complexity of import into a smooth journey. We centralise stock locally in the UK, making it easier for exporters to manage their products while offering quicker, more tailored deliveries to British buyers. At the same time, we reduce paperwork and costs through dedicated customs support, while picking and order preparation are handled directly on site, ensuring proximity and care in every step.

With Fresh Ways Logistics Ltd, Italian producers have a partner that continues to protect the quality of their products even beyond the border. British importers, on the other hand, gain a reliable service, designed around the specific needs of their market.

The care and attention that have always defined Fresh Ways travel with us here as well. Because we believe that Italian excellence deserves to be valued everywhere.

Your goods, our care. Now closer than ever.
